Thanks for putting up with the test posts folks.

Over the years there has been much discussion on the question of a web based message forum vs a mailing list.

I've finally been able to settle it once and for all. You can now use either/or.

I've set up a forum that will "gate" message traffic to and from the mailing list.

The only caveat is that for messages posted to the forum to reach the mailing list, you must have signed into the forum using the same email address that you used to subscribe to the mailing list. If you don't, you'll get a bounce message from the mailing list manager program. (and nobody on the list will see your post)

If you want to take advantage of this, the forum is available at http://www.simpits.org/forum.

If you want to stop getting list mail and only participate via the forum, you can edit your settings here:

http://www.simpits.org/mailman/options/simpits-tech

Once you've signed in, scroll down to "Your Simpits-tech Subscription Options". The field you want to change is "Mail Delivery". By setting it to "disabled", it will prevent the list from sending mail to you, BUT you'll still be able to participate in the list via the forum.

If there are any questions, please don't hesitate to ask!

thanks all.

Hi Gene
Are you still working on the interface software for the Beta Innovations?

It's as done as it's gonna get unfortunately. I'm working on knocking out the diy cockpit manual and I'll start working on support for the PHCC hardware.

Gene
I know "It's as done as it's gonna get unfortunately" is a secret encrypted message, but did you ever get the analog stuff working. I need to clean out and Leo's stuff is heading for the trash without a way to get it operational.
